The Genesis:

Meet our Mama and our Papa (Lole and John Kotla)… Their love for family and desire to share six generations of information with the future…is the reason for our family's story. It is our prayer that future generations will "pay forward" and do the same.

Our Journey: Introduction & Bonding

Family Booklet - Steering Committee
Uncle John Kotla's Immediate family – Purple Clan

Uncle John Kotla – 1922
Tracked down all family branch coordinators to ensure that genealogy information and pictures were provided. Made telephone threats to those who were too slow in responding, and appeared in person at the door the next day if the threats didn't work. As our Saina, he always got away with it!

Toni Sanford – 1950
Tackled everything else that nobody really wanted to do. Like driving papa to relatives' homes, rummaging through family closets to find pictures, actually taking picture frames off the walls and pianos in peoples' homes, making telephone calls and sending emails to total strangers pleading for information and pictures.

Tita Castro – 1956
Provided final editing and maintenance of the genealogy database file as changes were requested through the various family branch coordinators. Provided the meeting venue for final booklet layout at her residence, including first class dinners of boiled HC franks, huge pots of kadu, and an endless supply of coffee and biskucho.

Standing: John, Frank, Papa, Joe. Seated: Tita, Loling, Toni, Gerianne

Loling Field – 1958
Reviewed all pictures submitted via family branch coordinators, selecting the best and deciding how to fit and format them on the booklet page. She regularly harassed her husband, Harold, into timely scanning the pictures and printing draft layouts for committee approval.

Gerianne Pangelinan – 1961
Consistently followed up with family representatives who managed to elude papa's initiative to bring their information to our layout meetings.

Frank - 1946, Johnny - 1959, Joseph - 1962
The guys who always just came by to keep papa company, as the girls feverishly worked to beat the clock. Papa's family booklet will be a "dream come true" because we are, and still are, all behind him!

Our Mother… Our Inspiration… a beautiful lady… a class act

Dolores Haniu Untalan Pangelinan
1925–1995
(Daughter of Josefina Blaz Haniu Untalan)

Mama, you are truly our inspiration and we miss having you here with us. As we develop our "Haniu" book, your solemn absence and silence are magnified as we piece your family culture and history without you and your guidance. Many of these pages came directly from your thoughts as we shared family time, together.

We treasure the many fond moments we would spend on Sundays on your bed, laughing and teasing with you and Papa about all our relatives, about who married who, and who had this kid, and all the family secrets that came unfolded as we inquired relentlessly about the past. This book delivers part of your dream to document our family structure. Together with papa, you had instilled in all of us the passion to document our family structure and to share with the future generation.

Mama, we could still hear you and watch your eyes glisten as you sang your favorite "Tennessee Waltz." We could, also, still picture your "smirk" when you "tooted" your bicycle horn only to have all your grandkids come running to your room to check on you. Thank you for loving us. We love you, too, and miss you a lot!

A family love that just won't quit… a Special Recognition…

Uncle Fidel and Catherine Blas – Level 2

Descendants of Atanacio Albino Haniu Blas

Special recognition is made for this couple who patiently and consistently attended all of our meetings without fail and for being there to guide us. They were always with us offering parental support.

There were times when we wanted to quit but we realized that they would be waiting for us. They made phone calls and assisted in inspiring and encouraging others to take the time out and make the sacrifice to leave behind a legacy for our future. They, too, believed that archiving family history provides the roadmap for future generations who will, inevitably, be looking back in time to understand where we've been and where they need to go from here. Thank you, Uncle De' and Auntie Cat.

Francisco Chaco Carbullido - Orange Clan

Tita & Frank (1998)

Francisco Chaco Carbullido, a spunky and vibrant 90 year old, level 3 generation Kotla gentleman, was the oldest attendee at our 2013 Kotla reunion activities. Although Frank is a level 3 generation, our dad taught us to respect our elders and for this reason, we dedicate a special page to Francisco Chaco Carbullido, the oldest Kotla attendee at our 2013 reunion.

- During World War II, when the Japanese invaded Wake Island was he was taken as prisoner of war to Shanghai, China from Dec 1941 – Aug 1945.
- In 1988, Congress recognized the surviving Wake Island Defenders as Veterans of the United States Navy and were granted military benefits and awarded the Prisoner of War Medal.
- Chalan Pago/Ordot Commissioner (1969 to 1975); Chief Commissioner in 1975
- Director of Civil Defense until retirement from Gov't of Guam in 1984
- A member of Knights of Columbus.

Francisco Chaco Carbullido, the son of Enriqueta Borja Pangelinan (1868 - Kotla level 1 generation) and Jesus Blanco Carbullido (1870), was born in Agat, Guam on December 2, 1923. He married Maria (Tita) Salas Castro (1928 - 2012) and they had 9 children: Bernice, John, Phillip, Francis, Norma, Gina, Vincent, Paul, and Pilar.

Our Dedication …

Maria Serafina Blaz Haniu Garrido

This book is dedicated to Auntie Ninang, Maria Serafina Haniu Garrido, the 12th child of our great grandparents: Jose Hikoshiro Haniu and Maria Deza Blaz.

As this book is printed, June 2003, Auntie Ninang is the only living "Saina", from our Level 1 generation.

We pray that our Lord will continue to bless her with love and peace as she continues to guide and inspire our family and generations to come.

Descendants of: Juan Flores Pangelinan (1843) and Maria Mendiola Borja (1848)
Level 1 Purple

Francisco Borja Pangelinan
Spouse: Natividad Pangelinan Lujan

DOB: 5/5/1890
DOD: 7/27/1943

Francisco Borja Pangelinan, the youngest of the 12 children, was born on May 5, 1890. He grew up tending the family farm in Sasa, Piti, where they planted and harvested rice, corn, breadfruit, black eyed beans, mongo beans, etc. They raised pigs, chicken, cows, and spent time "net fishing" or "gigao" to provide food for the family. They, often, traded food with neighbors.

Francisco married Natividad Pangelinan Lujan (Atdot family) on August 10, 1916. They had eight children: Doroteo, Juan, Salvador, Serafina, Maria, Francisco, Enriqueta and Luisa. Dorotheo, the oldest son, left the island on July 1, 1939 to join the US Navy. Four months later, on November 30, 1939, Francisco (the 6th child) died of meningitis at eleven years old. The following year, on June 4, 1941, Natividad (Francisco's wife) died of pneumonia.

Francisco worked as a civil service employee for the military government as a carpenter, for a meager $0.39 an hour, up until the war started in 1941. During the war, he contracted tuberculosis and was ill until he died on July 18, 1943.

Several weeks before his death, he asked his son, Juan, to build a coffin for him. Fellow carpenter friends of Francisco assisted Juan build his father's coffin. Mrs. Ignacia Butler, Francisco's neice, offered to trim and adorn the coffin interior with satin and lace. The coffin was stored at the Butler's residence until Francisco's death.

Shortly before his death, he asked his son Juan (21 years old), to ensure that he would personally raise his brothers and sisters. Francisco was adamant about disallowing any relative to raise his children separate from one another. He asked Juan to raise the family with love and respect and to always stay together.

Francisco was a spoiled, happy-go-lucky individual. He inherited a large piece of property (Atantano, currently known as the area around the Guam Oil Refinery Company / Guatali proximity), a two story home, family store and a car. He sold the house and used the money to buy property in Anigua, close to where China Arts is located. Being the spoiled brat of the family, he paid no attention to his other personal assets and eventually lost everything along the way.

Juan his son, subsequently, traded the Anigua property for a larger piece of property in Agana Heights owned by Ignacia Butler. The Agana Heights property was subdivided amongst the siblings. This property, As Kotla Court, is located next to the Agana Heights Catholic Church, where today some of Juan's children and grandchildren still reside.

July 5, 1994 Loling, Johnny, Toni, Joe, Mama, Papa, Tita, Gerianne and Frank

Our Papa, Juan Lujan Pangelinan (John), born on May 18, 1922, is the second child of Francisco and Natividad Pangelinan. His parents both died while he was in his late teens and with both of his brothers, off island, in the military, Juan was left with the responsibility of taking care of his younger sisters, Serafina, Maria, Enriqueta, and Luisa.

At a young age, he worked for the Bordallo's, close family relatives, in their various businesses and then ended up working for himself, making home deliveries for water, fresh meat, Coca Cola, and others.

On July 5, 1944, at 22 years old, during World War II, he married Dolores (Lole) Haniu Untalan. They had seven children: Frank, Toni, Tita, Loling, Johnny, Gerianne and Joe.

In 1950, he was the first successful "write in" candidate for commissioner and served in Agana Heights for 16 years. In 1962, he and Lole founded Lole's Retail Store and in 1976 they founded Kotla's Wash and Dri. Lole was diagnosed with pancreatic cancer in 1987 and died on August 29, 1995 of liver cancer.

In his spare time, John enjoyed tending to his garden of local vegetables and raised pigs, cows, and chicken for food. Because Lole loved flowers, he had a beautiful bed of flowers, especially for her.

As commissioner, he worked with the village youths and was proud of having the first village youth Drum & Bugle Corp, Majorettes, and Armed Drill Team, a community favorite during the annual Liberation Day parades. Using his personal station wagon, he offered free hearse services for his constituents. A founding member of the Agana Heights Association, he spearheaded their A.H. Bingo fundraisers. After Typhoon Karen, he coordinated AH Tent City as family temporary housing for those whose houses were devastated by the typhoon. He was also a member of the A.H. church Holy Name Society.

John lived a full life and on January 23, 2009, at 86 years old, he died of heart failure.

We didn't realize we were making memories...
We just knew we were having fun!

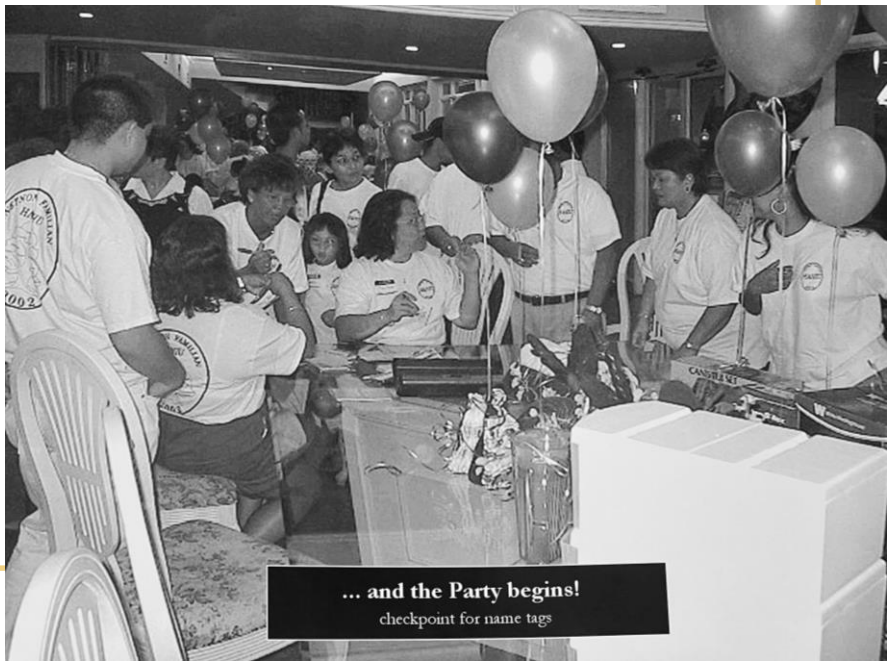
Our Honorees ...

a beautiful event - note the sunset in the background



... and the Party begins!

SERIOUSLY?!

KODAK MOMENTS!

Our Journey: Nurturing Tomorrow

KOTLA

three little pigs

... and the three little pigs went home... with Javen Pangelinan (Purple, level 5), Jameson Mafnas (Royal Blue, Level 5) and Zaeyah Tajalle (Sky Blue, Level 6).

Thank you, Ethan James Atoigue (Emerald Green, Level 5) our young hero who won piglet #3, but gave it to Zaeyah, who was one of the last 4 in the piglet contest... Since there were only 3 little pigs!

Ethan is the winner on the far right on the top photo. Zaeyah can be seen sitting on Javen's lap in the left middle picture and is the littlest one with her hands up in the bottom middle picture. Remember she is level 6!

Huge THANK YOU to Christine Alvarez (Brown, Level 3) for donating the 3 little pigs and hosting our Kotla Zoo!

our future leaders...

Chloeanne Jannine Gault (Emerald Green, Level 5), the granddaughter of Catherine Sablan Gault, was the youngest member of our reunion planning committee.
