NAVY DEPARTMENT, Washington, April 6, 1917.

MY DEAR MR. VON PREISSIG: The department has received through the commandant of the naval station at Guam the manuscript of your Grammar and Dictionary of the Chamorro Language. The energy and zeal displayed by you in the preparation of a work of such magnitude is fully appreciated, as is also your generous offer to place the results of your labor at the disposal of the department without remuneration.

While the department recognizes the great benefit that would accrue to the department of education and the inhabitants of the Island of Guam through their possession of a textbook of this character, there are not at this time funds available for its publication.

I have placed this matter in the hands of the Director of Naval Intelligence, who will safeguard your manuscript and submit requisition for the publication of the work when funds for the purpose shall be available.

Very respectfully,

JOSEPHUS DANIELS, Secretary of the Navy.

Chief Pay Clerk EDWARD R. VON PREISSIG, U. S. Navy, Naval Hospital, Mare Island, Cal.

[NOTE.—Chief Pay Clerk von Preissig was promoted to be assistant paymaster, United States Navy, July 1, 1917.]

INTRODUCTION.

By EDWARD R. VON PREISSIG, PH. D.,

Author of Etymological Comparison of the Finn-Ugrian and Magyar Idioms; Short History of Austria-Hungary; Political Institutions of the Old World; etc.

That the present work is the first lexicographic record in the English language of the Chamorro idiom of the Marianas Islands, and especially of the island of Guam, is submitted as its principal "raison d'être," as well as the author's justification for undertaking a task rendered exceptionally difficult through the paucity of materials on which to base outlines, which difficulties were further amplified by the character of the sources at his disposal. As stated in the bibliography following, only three dictionaries are available at the present time, of which the Japanese-Chamorro Dictionary contains about 60 very small pages, with a vocabulary comprising 30 pages, presenting the Chamorro equivalents in phonetic spelling; the German-Chamorro Dictionary, with a vocabulary of 86 pages, also adheres to the phonetic spelling and only the Spanish-Chamorro Dictionary, published in Manila in 1865, maintains the spelling of the Chamorro words in accordance with the representation used by the Chamorros of the present day, a usage which has been transmitted to them through their mothers from generation to generation. The fact that there has been great need for a printed record of the Chamorro language is brought into bold view by the evident losses sustained by the spoken language since the comparatively recent date of the publication of the last mentioned dictionary. These losses have forced themselves upon the author's knowledge during his preliminary investigations among the natives, when it was his ever-recurring experience to be compelled to abandon word after word contained in the work of the Spanish author, for the reason that they were no longer remembered by any of the living Chamorros, and although all these words represented, upon the most casual etymological investigation, the true genius of the old language, they have been lost to it forever, having apparently died with the last generation.

Immediately upon having finished his outline plan for this work, the present lexicographer was required to decide a question of the utmost importance, that of the spelling of the Chamorro equivalents to be adopted by him. Mr. W. E. Safford, author of the scholarly Grammar of the Chamorro Language of Guam, having given his permission for the use of his work, the careful study of the same offered a great number of convincing arguments in favor of the phonetic spelling, and the work was commenced in accordance with this decision. However, upon submitting the partial fruits of his labors to the scrutiny of a number of Chamorro gentlemen, the author was suddenly confronted by the absolute necessity for the reversal of his conclusions. Whatever may have been the detailed experiences, the consensus of opinion was adverse to the acceptance of any innovation, pride of race and language and reverence of ancestors and old-time traditions playing no small part in the final decision, reluctantly but unalterably tendered, offering no compromise on the ancient, illogical, impracticable, but nevertheless beloved, and therefore not to be changed, old-time Chamorro method of spelling. And thus the author resigned himself to the task of rewriting all the work done, and presents it now in the finished form appearing herein, acceptable, and, he hopes, useful to those for whose especial benefit it was planned and executed.

Before concluding, the author wishes to express the hope that his principal aim, that of the facilitation of the work of the public schools of Guam, through the placing into the pupils' hands of the means for the acquisition of a thorough understanding of the meaning of the English words learned by them in the course of their school term, may be accomplished.

It is the author's duty, as well as a pleasure, to acknowledge here the services rendered by the following-named gentlemen, who assisted in verifying the Chamorro equivalents in this work. Thanks for this valuable help are due to Messrs. Vicente Calvo, José Cruz, Vicente Herrero, Pedro Martinez, Atanacio Perez, José Roberto, Juan Taitano, and Francisco Taitano, all of Agaña, island of Guam. The author also acknowledges his indebtedness to Mr. J. Schnabel, superintendent of the schools of Guam, for many suggestions in connection with this work, to Mrs. W. G. Johnston, teacher in the Guam schools, to his wife, Mrs. Hester von Preissig, member of the Guam Normal School faculty, and to Messrs. Atanacio Perez and Francisco Taitano for assistance in the final revision. The author also desires to extend his thanks to Mr. W. E. Safford, for permission to use his scholarly philological study of the Grammar of the Chamorro Language, which has been of the greatest service in the preparation of this work.

PRONUNCIATION.

- a without an accent in Chamorro is pronounced the same as the "a" in father; or in the Italian si parla Italiano.
- b almost the same as in English, but it is not as hard, and there is a perceptible tendency toward "v."
- c represents the sound of "k" before the vowels "a," "o," and "u"; in Chamorro, when it is desired to render the sound of "k" before "e" and "i," the diphthong "qu" is used, instead of "c."
- ch pronounced the same as "ch" in charity.
- d the same as in English, but softer.
- e as "a" in fate.
- f as in English.
- g is pronounced hard, as in gold, before the letters "a," "o," and "u"; the sound of "ge" as in the English get is indicated by the letters "gue," or the sound of "gi" as in the English gimp, by the letters "gui," the "u" in both cases being silent, except where accented (see paragraph on Accentuation); at the end of words the "g" is sounded hard, almost like a "k."
- h is always silent, and is of most infrequent use, especially at the beginning of words; it occurs mainly in words derived from the Spanish.
- i pronounced like "ee" in meet; in final syllables, "e" and "i" are almost interchangeable, and the apparent confusion in spelling is sanctioned by accepted usage.
- j has the sound of the English "h," but is strongly aspirated.
- k is not used by the Chamorros; its sound in the English alphabet, as in kettle, is represented by the letter "c" before the vowels "a," "o," and "u," and by the diphthong "qu" before the letters "e" and "i"; the advisability of the phonetic (and therefore more logical) representation of this sound was carefully considered in carrying out the present work, in connection with various other letters of the Chamorro alphabet, principally "j," and "ll," and the adherence to the ancient manner of spelling was decided upon only after most searching inquiry which plainly disclosed the advisability of this course; one-half, or more, of the present work was rewritten when the author became convinced that any change in that direction would render his efforts futile by proving this lexicographic work unacceptable to those for whose benefit it was planned.
- l is pronounced as in English.
- ll carries the sound of "j" in English, but with a strong nasal twang and a trace of a soft "d" suggested in its articulation; the letter "y" is now generally used in the place of "ll," conveying the same sound.
- m pronounced as in English.
- n as in English.
- ñ as "ni" in onion or bunion; the same as the Spanish "ñ" in Niña.
- ng. The pronunciation of this diphthong is somewhat difficult of description; in Chamorro the letters "ng," unless followed by a second "g," never convey the sound of "ng" in the English finger; when bearing the characteristic accent extending over both letters, the pronunciation strongly suggests a reversal of the two letters, the combined sound being that of a guttural "g," begun in the throat, but not finished, and followed by a soft "ñ" (much the same as the "ñ" in the Spanish Niña), thus producing, first, an unfinished "g" and an "ñ," or the sound value resembling "gñ."

o as in no.

p the same as in English.

qu used to represent the sound of "k" before the vowels "e" and "i."

r as in English.

s represents both the sound of the English "s" and of the "z," the latter not being used in the Chamorro alphabet; no rule can be given for the distinctive sound, which can be only ascertained from usage.

t the same as in English.

u has the sound of "oo" in root; in final syllables there exists the same interchangeability between the letters "u" and "o" as has been described under the letter "i"; thus táotao is often spelled táutau, it being impossible to make a proper division on account of the sound of the last syllable, which carries a value half way between "o" and "u."

y is pronounced nearly as the "j" in joke, but with a softer articulation.

The letters x, k, v, w, and z are not used in Chamorro.

ACCENTUATION.

Accents have been used in the present work only where they are of essential value, or where their omission would cause a change in the meaning of the words involved. Accordingly, the following paragraphs comprise these essentials only.

In words of two syllables the accent is usually on the first syllable, and this is the case even though the word be adopted from the Spanish, the latter language requiring the accent in such words to be placed on the last syllable. Thus the Chamorro cájet, derived from the Spanish cajél, or báston, identical with the Spanish bastón, have the accent in the Chamorro equivalent on the first syllable, while the Spanish words carry the accent on the second syllable, as noted.

In words of more than two syllables the accent is usually on the penult, as in the Spanish, and in the case of variation from this rule, an acute accent is placed on the syllable to be accented. Agaga (red) carries no accent, as the emphasis in this word is on the next to the last syllable; on the other hand, ápacá (white), also written apacá, has the acute accent indicated over the first vowel, to indicate that the stress falls upon the first syllable, in exception to the rule above given. Through the addition of particles to root words the accent is often shifted, and in all such cases must be written in. For example, táta (father) has the accent on the first syllable; tatájo (my father) bears emphasis on the second, and tatanmáme (our father) has the stress on the third syllable, indicated in each case by an acute accent placed over the vowel contained in the respective syllable. The acute accent is also used when the syllable containing â, ê, î, ô, or û is to be accented, or when the stress falls on a syllable with ä or ü, thus: mad'ñao, yinä'cá.

After certain words and particles there occurs a change in the vowels following. Thus in the case of the definite article, "y," besides the complete change in the two vowels following, as described on the first page of the "Grammatical outline," from "o" to "e," and from "u" to "i," the prefixing of this definite article effects a change from the open sound of the vowel "a" to that of "ä" in cat or at, and somewhat resembling the so-called "Umlaut" in the German language represented by "ä." This change is indicated by the same accent in Chamorro, two dots being placed over the "a" when this vowel is preceded by the definite article, thus, "ä."

A peculiar pronunciation of the vowels "a," "e," "i," "o," and "u," in certain words, especially in such as may be formed by reduplication of syllables, is indicated in the Chamorro language by the accent ^.

Whenever this accent occurs, the respective vowel, which generally in such words terminates the syllable, is pronounced without change in the equivalent indicated in the table of pronunciation; for instance, the "ô" is pronounced as the "o" in no, but while the articulation of the vowel is begun as usual, the accent effects an abrupt and sharp termination, such as might be indicated by the sudden elision of a consonant intended to follow the vowel.

When two vowels follow each other, such as "ii," or "ee," the separate pronunciation of each is indicated by an acute accent or by the accent ^. In the case of "ue" or "ui," when it becomes necessary to show the separate pronunciation of the "u," which, when following "g," is always silent before "e" and "i," unless accented, this is accomplished by placing over it two dots, as follows: "güe," and "güi."

CONCISE GRAMMAR OF THE CHAMORRO LANGUAGE.

THE ARTICLE.

(A) INDEFINITE ARTICLE.

No indefinite article was used in the old Chamorro idiom. In the modern vernacular the Spanish un, in invariable form, with both masculine and feminine nouns, takes its place.

Examples:

- un laje* (a man).
- un paláuan* (a woman).
- un patgon* (a child).
- un ráina* (a queen).

(B) DEFINITE ARTICLE.

y (from the Spanish; pronounced: e) is the definite article, and is invariable; it has the effect of changing certain letters in the nouns following.

Examples:

- o* is changed to e, chotda; y chetda (the banana).
- u* is changed to i, púguâ; y píguâ (the betel-nut).

NOTE.—See fourth paragraph under "Accentuation" with reference to change in vowel "a."

(C) THE ARTICLE BEFORE PROPER NOUNS.

Before titles and names of persons and animals: si; also si tata (the father) and si nana (the mother).

At the end of a sentence or subordinate clause, or when the proper noun is used in apposition: as.

For example:

- y lajimo as Isaac* (thy son Isaac).
- y méjnalum as Jose* (the wise Joseph; or, Joseph, the wise).

Before places, rivers, natural objects, denoted by names of no known signification: iya; y ya.

For example:

- iya catan*; y ya catan (the north).
- dángculo iya Jagatña*; dángculo y ya Jagatña (Agaña is large).

THE NOUN.

The grammatical gender is not known in the Chamorro language. The natural gender is designated by the prefixes laje (man) or paláuan (woman), and the sex of mammals is sometimes indicated by toro (bull) or baca (cow).

Examples:

- laje na manog* (cock).
- paláuan na manog* (hen).
- toro na chiba* (he-goat).
- baca na chiba* (she-goat).

NUMBER OF NOUNS.

Nouns may be of singular, dual, or plural number.

(a) Mutual or reciprocal relationship is represented by the dual number, formed by inserting the particle um before the first vowel of the primitive word.

Examples:

chêlo; chêla (brother, or sister).

chumêlo (two brothers).

chumêla (two sisters).

perientes (kinsman).

y pumarientes (the [two] kinsmen).

(b) The plural form is indicated by sija, generally as a suffix, but may also precede it.

Examples:

guma (house).

sija na guma (houses).

Certain nouns form the plural by taking the prefix man, which in some cases changes the initial letter of the primitive word.

Examples:

ch to ñ, chêlo; mañêlo (brother; brothers).

f to m, fafajan; mamafajan (buyer; buyers).

c and qu to ng, Quilisiano; Mangulisiano (Christians).

p to m, palê; mamalê (pater; patres).

s to ñ, saque; mañaque (thief; thieves).

t to n, táilaye; manáilaye (villain; villains).

Exceptions:

laje (man); lalaje (men).

jaga (daughter); jajaga (daughters).

patgon (child); famagûon (children).

paláuan (woman); famaláuan (women).

laje (man); lajijo (my son); lajimo (thy son); lajña (his, or her, son).

lajinmame or lajite (our son); lajinmiyo (your son); lajinñija (their son).

A kind of plural is expressed by prefixing to proper nouns the particle ja.

Example:

si ja Pedro (Pedro and his friends).

CASE.

No special form is used to indicate case, and the connection of the words in a sentence must decide the same.

Examples:

agañg si Pedro (call Pedro).

nâe si Pedro nu este na leblo (give this book to Pedro). Leblo (book) also written lebblo.

If the name of the object possessed ends in a vowel, the genitive or possessive may be indicated by adding an n.

Examples:

y leblon Jose (the book of Jose).

si Marian quiquô (Mary, the wife of Francis).

THE ADJECTIVE.

There are but few words in Chamorro which may be considered true adjectives, as most of them are really other parts of speech formed into adjectives, participial adjectives, etc., by the addition of prefixes, suffixes, and infixes. In the present work the classification given by W. E. Safford in his Grammar of the Chamorro Language has been adopted.

GRAMMATICAL DIVISION.

(1) Qualifying adjectives.—(a) Simple adjectives; (b) adjectival prefixes; (c) adjectival suffixes; (d) conjunctive particle; (e) predicate adjectives; (f) adjectives with definite article; (g) comparison of adjectives; (h) reduplication of syllables; (i) formation of the plural.

(2) Demonstrative adjectives.—(a) This; (b) that; (c) yon, yonder; (d) formation of adverbs from demonstratives.

(3) Interrogative adjectives.

(4) Indefinite adjectives.—(a) Limiting adjective, guaja; (b) indefinite adjectives from interrogatives; (c) negative adjectives; (d) adjectives of quantity or number; (e) adjectives of comparison; (f) indefinite adjectives adopted from the Spanish.

sinájguan (containing); táisinájguan (empty).

(c) Adjectival suffixes.

gofiê (to love); gofiíyon (amiable).

âgo (to change); âguyon (changeable).

Examples:

- máuleg na táotao (good man).
- laje na patgon (male child; boy).
- patgon na chiba (young goat).
- guéfmauleg na paláuan (good woman).
- y táilaye na chalan (the bad road, or street).

The particle na is omitted where the adjective expresses an inherent attribute, as in y átuloñg aga (the black crow).

(e) Predicate adjectives.

The particle na is not used in connection with predicate adjectives. There being no copulative verb in the Chamorro language, the predicate adjective may be considered to have a verbal nature. Máuleg (good) may be translated as to be good. Nouns, when used as adjectives, may also be considered as verbs. The predicate adjective usually precedes the subject.

Examples:

- máuleg y laje (good is the man; the man is good).
- guéfmauleg y paláuan (the woman is very good).

(f) Adjectives with definite article.

An adjective with the definite article when used in a restrictive clause follows the subject and is connected with it by ní; in a descriptive phrase the relative na (distinct from the adjectival particle na), is used.

Examples:

- y patgon ní y malañgo (the child who is sick; expressing: the sick child).
- y chélumo ní y díquiquí (the brother of yours who is little; expressing: your little brother).

Descriptive phrases:

- guaja niyog gui guimâ na sêndañgculo (in the house is a very large coconut).
- julii untujoñg na cáfachê (I saw a mud-covered hat).

(g) Comparison of adjectives.

Comparison is expressed by the possessive suffix na, followed by que.

Examples:

- etogaña que guajo (smaller in stature than I).
- âpacâña que jago (whiter than thou).

Equality is expressed by the prefix chá.

Examples:

- châmisacan (as old as).
- misacan (old).

Equality, but in a lower degree, is expressed by lá and chat.

Examples:

- láâpacâ (somewhat white).
- chatâpacâ (poorly white; not white white).

(h) Reduplication of syllables.

Expresses intensification.

Examples:

dañguculo (big); dañgcuculo (enormous; overgrown).
gasgas (clean); gásgasgas (scrupulously clean).
díquiqui (little); díquiquí (tiny; very small).

(i) Formation of the plural.

Accomplished by the prefix man.

Examples:

mauleg na chêlo (good brother); manmauleg na mañelo (good brothers).
táilaye na laje (bad man); manáilaye na lalaje (bad men).
tunas na chalan (straight road, or street); manunas na chalan (straight roads).

(2) DEMONSTRATIVE ADJECTIVES.

(a) This. Expressed by ayen before the predicate (yini or ini after the predicate) of a sentence.

Examples:

ayen na patgon tumatañguis gui pueñgue (this child cried last night).
faisen yini (or ini) na tentagô (ask this servant).

(b) That. Rendered by énao.

Examples:

énao sija na galagô (those dogs).
énao na palê (that priest there).

(c) Yon; yonder. Rendered by ayo and yuje.

Examples:

ayo na gumâ (yonder house).
díquiqui yuje na patgon (yon small child).
yajo yuje na leblo (I like yonder book).

(d) Adverbs derived from demonstratives. Accomplished by prefixing and absorbing gui (signifying in or at).

Examples:

gui yini (literally, in this); güine (here).
gui yénao (literally, in that); güénao (there).

(3) INTERROGATIVE ADJECTIVES.

(a) Jayi, jaye, jai, or jae denote who?

Examples:

jayi sija na táotao? (what people? literally, who people?).
jai na rai? (what king? literally, who king?).

(b) Jafa, jaf. Although correctly translated what (or which), this word has a much broader use, and in accordance with inflection is utilized to convey a number of meanings, such as greeting, casual inquiry as to purpose, intention, reason, or destination, as well as the state of health, etc.

Examples (of correct use):

jaf na cato? (what cat?).
jafa na gumâ? (which house?).

The choice between the two forms, jafa or jaf, is merely one of euphony.

(c) Mano signifies either where or which.

Examples:

mano na leblo? (which book? literally, where book?).
jaftaimano na leblo? (what kind of book? literally, what-like book?).

(d) Fia, fafia, fiyai? These forms, signifying how many, are used according to the nature of the nouns they modify. (Very rarely used; replaced by cuanto; cuantos; jaf taimano minegaeña.)

Fia, used in reckoning time; fafia, used for questions pertaining to the number of persons or living things in general; fiyai, used in connection with inanimate objects.

Examples:

fia puen̄gue? replaced by cuantos dias? (how many days? literally, how many nights?).

fafia na taotao? cuanto na tāotas? (how many people?).

fiyai na gumâ? jaftaimano minegâeña na gumâ? (how many houses?).

Another derived interrogative is tagfia?, used in questions involving measurements, as, for example, tâgfian yini na sagman? (how many [fathoms long] is this boat?); also fâjafa? (how many times?).

(4) INDEFINITE ADJECTIVES.

(a) The limiting adjective guaja signifies there is or there are. Like all other words in Chamorro, guaja may be used as several parts of speech.

Examples:

guaja na tuba (some toddy).

guaja na lalaje (some men).

guaja sija manog (some fowls).

guaja sija na gumâ (some houses).

(b) Indefinite adjectives from interrogatives formed by the suffix ja.

Examples:

jaejâ na taotao (whatsoever person).

jayijâ na laje (whatsoever man).

jafjâ na gumâ (whatsoever house).

manojâ na sêsê (whatsoever knife).

(c) Negative adjective tayâ denotes the reverse of guaja, signifying there is not, the equivalent of the French il n'y a pas.

Examples:

tayâ na palâuan (no woman).

tat janum (no water).

(d) Adjectives of quantity or number; mégae or lajyan signify much or many; lâguaja, several; dididî, a little; y palo, the remaining.

Examples:

mégae na pution (many stars).

lajyan na taotao (many persons).

lâguaja na famagñon (several children).

dididê na tuba (a little toddy).

ti mégae na tāotao (not many people).

y palo na tāotao (the remaining people).

(e) Adjectives of comparison. Adverbs of manner, such as taimano, jaftaimano (how, like what, what like, where like); taigüine (thus, like this, like here); taigüenao (thus, like that, like there), or taigüije (thus, like that, like yonder), which are derived from the demonstratives ini, énao, and yuje, or more directly from the corresponding adverbs of place, güine, güenao, and güije, may be used as adjectives before nouns and are connected with the latter by the particle na.

Examples:

taigüine na finâtinis (such an act as this; literally, such-like act).

taigüenao na leblo (such a book as that [near you]).

taigüije na tāotao (such a person as that [yonder]).

jaf taimano na leblo malagômo? (what kind of a book do you wish?).

taigüine na leblo (this kind of a book).

(f) Indefinite adjectives adopted from the Spanish. These have become part of the Chamorro language, and are generally used.

Examples:

catquiera; catquieraja; catquiet (any, any whatsoever).
 otro; otro na (the other).
 cada; cada uno (everyone).
 todo (every, all).
 niuno (not one).
 mas sea jafa (whatsoever).

NUMERALS.

No mention is made herein of the interesting, but now obsolete, old numeral system, and only a few of the old Chamorro numerals are retained in derived words. The modern numerals have been adopted from the Spanish.

(a) Cardinal numbers:

un, uno (1).	bente y cuatro (24).
dos (2).	bente y sinco (25).
tres (3).	tréinta (30).
cuatro (4).	cuarenta (40).
sinco (5).	sinquenta (50).
sais (6).	sesenta (60).
siete (7).	setenta (70).
ocho (8).	ochenta (80).
nuebe (9).	nuebenta or nobenta (90).
dies (10).	sién or siento (100).
onse (11).	dosientos (200).
dose (12).	tresientos (300).
trese (13).	cuatrosientos (400).
catotse (14).	quinientos (500).
quinse (15).	saisientos (600).
dies y sais (16).	setesientos (700).
dies y siete (17).	ochosientos (800).
dies y ocho (18).	nuebesientos (900).
dies y nuebe (19).	mil (1,000).
bente (20).	dos mil (2,000).
bente y uno (21).	tres mil (3,000).
bente y dos (22).	dies mil (10,000).
bente y tres (23).	un miyon (1,000,000).

(b) Ordinals:

y finénana (the first).
 y minâ dos (the second).

(Or, y segundo, from the Spanish; y primero, y tetsero, etc., are also in use.)

y minâ tres (the third).
 y minâ cuatro (the fourth).
 y minâ sinco (the fifth).
 y minâ sais (the sixth).
 y minâ sais (the sixth).
 y minâ siete (the seventh).
 y minâ ocho (the eighth).
 y minâ nuebe (the ninth).
 y minâ diés (the tenth).
 y minâ onse (the eleventh).

(Ordinals from the Spanish are not used beyond the tenth, désimo.) úttimo (the last).

NOTE.—Both cardinal and ordinal numbers are connected with the noun by the particle na, as, bente na güijan (twenty fishes). The noun following the numerals remains in the singular; exception is made, however, in the case of nouns forming irregular plural.

For example:

tres na táotao (three persons).

But:

tres na famagûon (three children).

(c) Distributives. Distributives are formed by prefixing the particles fan- and a-, before the cardinal number. The numeral is thus put into verbal form. The prefix fan-a- is changed in the indicative, past and present tense into man-a-.

Examples:

man-acuacuatro julô (they were coming up four-by-four).

ufan-adiédies magui (they will come here ten-by-ten).

THE PRONOUN.

In the Chamorro language the pronoun has only two forms, namely, the singular and plural, and in this differs from the Tagalog and the Polynesian languages. With verbs the dual is expressed, in certain conjugations, by the singular form of the verb accompanied by the plural form of the pronoun.

There are two forms for the first person, plural, best designated as being either inclusive or exclusive.

Example:

jita (we) signifies you and I, therefore inclusive.

jame (we) signifies he or she or they and I, classed as exclusive, as it excludes the person addressed.

THE PERSONAL PRONOUN.

There are two forms of the personal pronoun, styled the long and the short. The first is used when the pronoun precedes the verb, and when the pronoun is used without a verb, as in abbreviated sentences and after prepositions.

Examples:

guaajo fumâtinâs énao (I did that).

guiya jita (with us; at our house; the French, chez nous).

The short form of the personal pronoun is used where the same is preceded by the verb.

Example:

chulie yô un manja (bring me a coconut).

LONG FORM.	SHORT FORM (AFTER VERBS).
guaajo	yo	(I).
jago	jau	(thou).
guiya	guí	(he; she).
jita	jit	(we, inclusive).
jame	jam	(we, exclusive).
jamyo	jamyo	(you).
sija	sija	(they).

THE POSSESSIVE PRONOUN.

The possessive pronoun is expressed differently in the case of (a) persons, (b) animals, and (c) things inanimate.

(a) Indicated by a suffix, as follows:

jo or co (my).

mo (thy).

ña (his; her; its).

ta (our, inclusive).
 mame (our, exclusive).
 miyo (your).
 ñija (their).

(b) In the case of animals:

gâjo (my).
 gâmo (thy).
 gâña (his; her; its).
 gâta (our, inclusive).
 gâmame (our, exclusive).
 gâmiyo (your).
 gâñija (their).

It will be seen, therefore, that the reference to animals is indicated by the infix gâ.

Examples:

y gâjo na gâlago (my dog).
 y gâmo na manog (thy fowl).
 y gâña na bâbui (his pig).
 y gâta na carabao (our buffalo, inclusive).
 y gâmame na carabao (our buffalo, exclusive).
 y gâmiyo na chiba (your goat).
 y gâñija na ñgãñgâ (their duck).

(c) In the case of inanimate objects:

iyoco -(my).
 iyomo (thy).
 iyoña (his; her; its).
 iyota (our, inclusive).
 iyonmame (our, exclusive).
 iyonmiyo (your).
 iyonñija (their).

THE VERB.

Almost any word in the Chamorro language may be used as a verb, but there are certain words expressing motion, condition, or action, which may be considered true verbs in their primitive form.

Examples:

jânao (to go; to walk).
 mâilâ (to come).
 saga (to stay).
 falago (to run).
 agang (to call out).
 fâpos (to pass).
 tunog (to descend).
 basnag (to fall).
 jagô (to reach).
 tagâ (to cut).

tuguê (to write).
 tâitai (to recite; to read).
 ason (to lie down).
 nañgo (to swim).
 fato (to arrive).
 tañguis (to weep).
 guinem, or guimen (to drink).
 chulê (to carry).
 yutê (to throw away).
 pacha (to touch).

In the Chamorro language all verbs are classed as either transitive or intransitive. Verbs having a certain direct object are classed as transitive.

Example:

tâitai énao (or énao) na leblo (read that book).

As intransitive are classed (a) verbs denoting motion or position, having no direct object; (b) transitive verbs, when they have no object at all, or when their use indicates an uncertain, indefinite object. Thus, to read, and to read books, are both classed as intransitive, the first, when standing alone, having no object at all, and the second denoting an object insufficiently definite. The conjugation of the verbs applying to (b) is that of the transitive form, with the addition of the prefix fan, the latter being modified in the past tense and in the infinitive into man. (The addition of the prefixes fan or man has the effect of changing the letters following, as in the case of the particle denoting the plural, for instance, chulê becomes fanulê, etc.).

In the case of some transitive verbs the insertion of the infix um accomplishes the accentuation of the fact that the action described has received previous mention or is already known. For example, when speaking of a book that has already been mentioned, the form jaye tumáitai este na leblo ? (who has read this book?) would be used, while jutáitai este na leblo (I have read this book) would indicate reference to a book not known to the person or persons addressed.

Avoiding undue elaboration, the following examples of conjugations have been selected: (a) The transitive verb with a direct object; (b) The transitive verb without a direct object (with the prefix fan-); (c) The transitive verb with the infix um; (d) The intransitive verb.

(A) THE TRANSITIVE VERB WITH A DIRECT OBJECT.

Infinitive:

gágau (to beg).

Imperative:

Second person singular, gá-gau.

Third person, u-gágau.

First person plural, ta-gágau.

Second person, gá-gau.

Third person, uja-gágau.

Present and past tenses:

First, singular (I beg; I begged), ju-gágau.

Second, singular, on-gágau.

Third, singular, ja-gágau.

First, plural, inclusive, ta-gágau; exclusive, in-gágau.

Second, plural, en-gágau.

Third, plural, ja-gágau.

NOTE.—For purpose of emphasis the personal pronoun is sometimes added to the verb.

Example:

guajo ju-gágau (I beg, I begged).

Future:

First, singular (I shall beg), ju-gágau.

Second, singular, on-gágau.

Third, singular, u-gágau.

First, plural, inclusive, uta-gágau; exclusive, in-gágau.

Second, plural, en-gágau.

Third, plural, uja-gágau.

NOTE.—The orthography in many instances is quite uncertain, therefore attention is invited again to the frequent substitution of i for e and o for u, and vice versa. The uncertain pronunciation of these vowels itself forms probably the fundamental reason for the fact cited, so that it may not be incorrect to designate the substitution of these letters as being permissible through accepted usage. Thus, in the above examples, en may be written for in, un for on, in for en, on for un. The other prefixes remain invariable, and should be remembered, as follows:

Present and past tense:

Third person singular, ja.

First person plural, ta.

Third person plural, ja.

Future:

Third person singular, u.First person plural, uta.Third person plural, uja.

The pluperfect may be formed as indicated in the following example: monjān ju-gāgau; or monjayan ju-gāgau; or yesta ju-gāgau; or magpô ju-gāgau (to convey: I had begged, or asked; although the literal translation would be I was finished with asking).

(B) TRANSITIVE VERB WITHOUT A DIRECT OBJECT.

Infinitive:

To beg; to ask, man-gāgau.

Imperative:

Second person singular, fan-gāgau.Third person, u-fan-gāgau.First person plural, ta-fanman-gāgau.Second person, fanman-gāgau.Third person, uja-fanman-gāgau.

Present and past tense:

First, singular (I beg; I begged), man-gāgau.Second, singular, man-gāgau-jau.Third, singular, man-gāgau-gui.First, plural, inclusive, manman-gāgau-jit; exclusive, manman-gāgau-jam.Second, plural, manman-gāgau-jamyo.Third, plural, manman-gāgau-sija.

Future:

First, singular (I shall beg), ju-fan-gāgau.Second, singular, on-fan-gāgau.Third, singular, u-fan-gāgau.First, plural, inclusive, uta-fanman-gāgau; exclusive, in-fanman-gāgau.Second, plural, en-fanman-gāgau.Third, plural, uja-fanman-gāgau.

(C) TRANSITIVE VERB WITH THE INFIX "UM".

NOTE.—This exists in the past tense only.

First, singular (I begged), guaajo gumāgau.Second, singular, jago gumāgau.Third, singular, güiya gumāgau.First, plural, inclusive, jita gumāgau; exclusive, jame gumāgau.Second, plural, jamyo gumāgau.Third plural, sija gumāgau.

(D) THE INTRANSITIVE VERB.

Infinitive:

To step down, tumunog.

Imperative:

Second person singular, tunog (step down!).Third person singular, u-tunog.First person plural, ta-fanunog.Second person plural, fanunog.Third person plural, uja-fanunog.

Present and past tense:

First, singular (I stepped down), tumunog yô.

Second, singular, tumunog jau.

Third, singular, tumunog gui.

First, plural, inclusive, manunog jit; exclusive, manunog jam.

Second, plural, manunog jamyo.

Third, plural, manunog sija.

Future:

First, singular (I shall step down), ju-tunog.

Second, singular, on-tunog.

Third, singular, u-tunog.

First, plural, inclusive, uta-fanunog; exclusive, in-fanunog.

Second, plural, en-fanunog.

Third, plural, uja-fanunog.

NOTE.—The formation of the infinitive by the infix um is not followed in the case of a number of exceptions. For example:

Present tense:

basnag yô (I am falling).

Infinitive:

manbasnag (to fall).

THE PASSIVE FORM.

There are two constructions to express the passive form of a verb, in which the object of the active verb becomes the subject: (a) By inserting the infix in before the first vowel, and changing o into e and u into i; or (b) by the prefix ma-.

Examples:

gode (to bind).

guinede or ma-gode (to be bound).

THE USE OF THE PASSIVE FORM.

(1) If the subject is in the first or second person, the active construction prevails.

Examples:

ju-patmada jau (I am beating thee).

on-nâe-yô (you are giving me).

(2) If the subject is in the third person and the object in the second, the passive form is used, with in inserted.

Examples:

binâbâ jau as tata (the father is beating thee).

manninâe jamyo nî leblo (he gives you the book).

(3) If both subject and object are in the third person, either the active or the passive form may be used.

Examples of the passive form:

Infinitive:

To be bound, guinede.

Past tense:

First, singular (I was being bound), guinede yô.

Second, singular, guinede jau.

Third, singular, guinede gui.

First, plural, inclusive, man-magode jit; exclusive, man-magode jam.

Second, plural, man-magode jamyo.

Third, plural, man-magode sija.

Future:

First, singular (I shall be bound), ju-magode.

Second, singular, on-magode.

Third, singular, u-magode.

First, plural, inclusive, utafan-magode; exclusive, in-fan-magode.

Second, plural, en-fan-magode.

Third, plural, uja-fan-magode.

THE REFLEXIVE VERB.

The conjugation or inflection of reflexive verbs is the same as that of active verbs with a definite object, except that it is followed by the personal pronoun.

Example:

jubale yo (I am waiting on myself).

In some instances maisa is also added, as follows:

ja-faailâ maisa guî (he accused himself).

THE CAUSATIVE PREFIX "NA-".

As shown under the paragraphs on adjectives, the addition of the causative prefix na, denoting cause, permission, initiating action, effects the transformation of such adjectives into transitive verbs, and of intransitive verbs into transitive verbs.

Examples:

gasgas, adj. (clean).

nâ-gasgas, v. tr. (to clean; to make clean).

ason, v. i. (to be lying down).

nâ-ason, v. tr. (to lay down; to put down).

In the example following, the addition of the particle fan in the plural, following the prefix na, is to be noted.

Example:

janâ-gasgas y guimâ (he is cleaning the house).

janâfan-gasgas y guimâ sija (he is cleaning the houses).

In other respects the conjugation follows that of the transitive verb with a definite object.

Examples:

If the object is in the singular—

Imperative:

Second person singular, nâ-gasgas.

Third person singular, u-nâ-gasgas.

First person plural, ta-nâ-gasgas.

Second person plural, nâ-gasgas.

Third person plural, uja-nâ-gasgas.

Past tense:

First, singular, ju-nâ-gasgas.

Second, singular, on-nâ-gasgas.

Third, singular, ja-nâ-gasgas.

First, plural, inclusive, ta-nâ-gasgas; exclusive, in-nâ-gasgas.

Second, plural, en-nâ-gasgas.

Third, plural, ja-nâ-gasgas.

Future:

First, singular, ju-nâ-gasgas.

Second, singular, on-nâ-gasgas.

Third, singular, u-nâ-gasgas.

First, plural, inclusive, uta-nâ-gasgas; exclusive, in-nâ-gasgas.

Second, plural, en-nâ-gasgas.

Third, plural, uja-nâ-gasgas.

If the object is in the plural—

Imperative:

Second person singular, nâfan-gasgas.

Third person singular, u-nâfan-gasgas.

First person plural, ta-nâfan-gasgas.

Second person plural, nâfan-gasgas.

Third person plural, uja-nâfan-gasgas.

Past tense:

First, singular, ju-nâfan-gasgas.

Second, singular, on-nâfan-gasgas.

Third, singular, ja-nâfan-gasgas.

First, plural, inclusive, ta-nâfan-gasgas; exclusive, in-nâfan-gasgas.

Second, plural, en-nâfan-gasgas.

Third, plural, ja-nâfan-gasgas.

Future:

First, singular, ju-nâfan-gasgas.

Second, singular, on-nâfan-gasgas.

Third, singular, u-nâfan-gasgas.

First, plural, inclusive, uta-nâfan-gasgas; exclusive, in-nâfan-gasgas.

Second, plural, en-nâfan-gasgas.

Third, plural, uja-nâfan-gasgas.

THE RECIPROCAL VERB.

Reciprocal verbs are formed by adding the prefix a-.

Example:

gode (to take hold of; also, to bind).

â-gode (to take hold of each other).

AUXILIARY VERBS.

(a) To have. This is translated by guaja or gai, and the negation is expressed by tayâ or tai.

Examples:

guaja lebloco (I have a book; literally, there is a book mine; the French, il y a; or German, es giebt).

guaja leblomo (you [thou] have a book).

guine guaia lebloco; also jagas guaia lebloco or monjan guaia lebloco (I had a book; literally, in the past there was a book mine).

u-guaia lebloco (I shall have a book).

NOTE.—Guaguaia jâ salapêjo stands for I still have some money.

tayâ (the negation)—

tayâ lebloco (I have no book).

gai-salapê yô (I have money).

man-gai-salapê jam (exclusive) (we have money).

u-gai-salapê (he will have money).

uta-fan-gai-salapê (we shall have money).

gai-iyo-jau tujonġ (you have a hat).

gai-gâ yô gâlagô (I have a dog).

tai (negation)—

tai-magago yô (I have no garment).

manae relôs jit (we have no clock).

tâiyo jau sêsê (you have no knife).

tâigâ yô chiba (I have no goat).

(b) To be. There is no copulative verb in the Chamorro language, and “to be” is rendered by adjectives, nouns, and adverbs used in verbal form.

Example:

Infinitive:

To be sick, malaṅgo.

Imperative:

Second person singular (be sick!), malaṅgo.

Second person plural, fan-malaṅgo.

Past tense (and present tense):

First, singular (I am sick; I was sick), malaṅgo yô.

Second, singular, malaṅgo jau.

Third, singular, malaṅgo güi.

First, plural, inclusive, man-malaṅgo jit; exclusive, man-malaṅgo jam.

Second, plural, man-malaṅgo jamyo.

Third, plural, man-malaṅgo sija.

Future:

First, singular (I shall be sick), ju-malaṅgo.

Second, singular, on-malaṅgo.

Third, singular, u-malaṅgo.

First, plural, inclusive, uta-fan-malaṅgo; exclusive, in-fan-malaṅgo.

Second, plural, en-fan-malaṅgo.

Third, plural, uja-fan-malaṅgo.

NOTE.—In the past tense many attributive verbs take the infix um, as, for instance: tumáilaye si Jose (Joseph became malicious).

Reduplication of a syllable in these verbs indicates equality in a lower degree.

Example:

malálanṅgo yô (I am somewhat sickly).

When used in the sense of the Spanish "estar" or the German "sich befinden," the verb "to be" is rendered by gáigue and the negation expressed by táigue.

Examples:

gáigue yô gui guimâ (I am at home).

man-gáigue jit gui ya jamyo (we are at your house).

u-gáigue gui ya jamyo (he will be at your house).

uja-fan-gáigue gui guimâ y chêlujo (they will be at the house of my brother).

The past tense is either expressed by an adverb of time, or by "estaba," taken from the Spanish.

Examples:

estaba jau gui ya sija? (were you at his house?).

manestaba jit gui ya sija (we were at their house).

The use of the negation, táigüe, is illustrated in the following examples:

táigüe yô (I am not present).

manáigüe jit (we are not there).

uja-fanáigüe (they will not be present).

A few verbs commencing with fe- are conjugated in accordance with the following paradigm:

Infinitive:

To run, falago.

Imperative:

Second, singular, falago.

Third, singular, u-falago.

First, plural, ta-fan-malago.

Second, plural, fan-malago.

Third, plural, uja-fan-malago.

Past and present tense:

First, singular (I am running; I ran), malago yô, etc.

First, plural, man-malago jit, etc.

Future:

First, singular, ju-falago, etc.

First, plural, uta-fan-malago, etc.

Note the following:

châmo falâlago (imperative, do not run!).

siña jufalago? (can I run?).

mun̄ga yô malago (I do not want to run).

THE PROHIBITIVE: DO NOT!

This is translated by châmo, the equivalent of the Latin "noli" or German "wolle nicht!"; in the plural, châmiyo! Its use is somewhat subject to arbitrary changes, and only a few illustrations are given below:

Examples:

châmo famómocat! (do not go!).

châmo falâlago! (do not run!).

châmiyo fanjâjanau! (do not go! [plural]).

châmiyo fanmatâtâchong! (do not sit down!).

jatagô yô na châjo jumâjanau (he commanded me not to go).

janâjanau y guaot para châjo tumútunog (he took away the ladder in order that I may not descend).

The negative of "to want to" is expressed by mun̄ga, which denotes negation in a milder degree than the positive châmo.

Examples:

Imperative, in all forms:

mun̄ga.

Past and present tense:

mun̄ga yô (I do not want to).

mun̄ga jit, or mun̄ga jam (we do not want to).

Future:

jumun̄ga (I shall not want to).

utafanmun̄ga, etc. (we shall not want to).

Some verbs always use the possessive pronoun as a suffix.

Examples:

yajo (I wish; it pleases me to).

gâfiaco, or gaoco (I prefer).

Examples of defective expressions:

jécuâ (I do not know).

nâ-jo, or, as plural, nâ-ta (give me, or give us, something to eat).

ujo! (take [it]!).

lamen (to be good for something; to be useful).

jaf ulamen este na atbot? (what is this tree good for?).

jaf onlamen güfne? (what are you here for?).

THE ADVERB.

The common adverbs of place and motion are in reality abbreviations of phrases composed of the demonstrative pronouns preceded by the preposition gui, indicating at or to.

Direction away from the speaker is denoted by guato; direction toward the speaker, magui; place or time of an occurrence is rendered by nai.

Examples:

este magui; este magui nai; güine magui (here!—example: come here!).

güénau; énaui nai; güénau nai (there).

güénau guato; énaui guato nai (there!—example: go there!).

are now seldom used; instead—san lago (to the north);

san jaya (to the south)

have been adopted to express the equivalents of right and left.

Adverbs denoting time:

pâgo; pâgo na jaane (to-day).

THE PREPOSITION.

Only the following prepositions are used:

(a) gui (upon; in; at; with). If the preposition gui is followed by the article, the latter is absorbed.

Examples:

gui y tasi becomes gui tasi (upon the sea).
gui iya jita becomes guiya jita (at our house).
gui si Juan becomes as Juan (at John's house).

(b) guine (out of; of; from).

Example:

guine mano (where from).

(c) nu. This is difficult to translate, as it has a number of different meanings and uses. A few illustrations follow:

ilegña nu sija (he said to them).

si palê jatagpaṅgue y patgon nu y janum (the priest baptized the child with water).

nâe jam pâgo nu y agonmame (give us our daily bread).

sija manécunṅgog man atento nu y finôña (they listened carefully to his words).

(d) yan (with; in company of). Instead of this preposition, circumlocution is, sometimes used, as in the following example:

dálalag gui (go with him—follow him).

(e) tai-tayâ (without).

Example:

tayâ tujonġ ña; tai tujonġ; tai tijeonġ (without a hat).

(f) Adverbs denoting place or location are used as prepositions, with san or gui.

Example:

Prepositions formed with san or gui can be combined with the possessive pronoun.

DICTIONARY OF THE
CHAMORRO LANGUAGE

PART 1.—ENGLISH-CHAMORRO

NOTE.—The author realizes that the greatest usefulness of his work will not be in the direction of aiding Americans in the acquisition of a knowledge of the Chamorro tongue, but rather in the actual help toward a more thorough appreciation of the English language by the Chamorro children. He has not seen fit, therefore, to extend the use of accents in this dictionary to anything resembling scholarly thoroughness and precise consistency. Accents are used in the daily life of the Chamorros but most sparingly, and the practice is that of leaving out, indiscriminately, all but those accents which by their application practically decide the meaning and interpretation of the word concerned. As in other eastern languages, an absolutely correct interpretation and articulation can be acquired only by the help of native teachers, and the extension of the annotation of accents in this work, to constitute a real factor, would offer a return very much out of proportion to the extraneous effort necessary for such an accomplishment.

However, the author anticipates, and hopes, that there will be ambitious Americans and others, even though their number be small, who would wish to be given at least a partial guide toward a correct enunciation (in so far as it can be ascertained from present usage) of the Chamorro idiom, and in the interest of these he has applied special care in the application of accents in the English-Chamorro part of the dictionary under the captions of the letters of the alphabet "a," "b," and "c." It will be noted by observant students that the shadings of the letters are indicated painstakingly, especially in the case of the vowel "a," the least variation in the enunciation leaning toward the so-called "Umlaut" (in German) "ä" being indicated by the corresponding accentuation. It is hoped that those for whose especial use this practice was adopted will be encouraged by it toward further investigation, and that the purpose of this extra annotation will be realized.
